K9 Searches/Deployments

K9 Tiba and Lt. Conrad spoke with a group of kids as part of the “Dogman” book series at the Campbell County Public Library. Kids got to hear about what police officers do and how police K9s help out. K9 Tiba also had a tumor removed from her eyelid that was benign.

Highlights

Officer Dave Fornash spoke with the residents of Highland Village about community life and safety issues. The topics included were scams, when to call the police, getting along in a community, and how to identify suspicious activity. Officer Fornash also provided the residents with the non-emergency dispatch center phone number and gave examples of when to use it and when to call 911.

Officer Dave Fornash spoke with the Young Marines about illegal narcotics and how it affects individuals and the community. He also spoke with them about what they can do as leaders in their communities to identify and help combat the issue.

Training

All officers were trained and recertified on the use of naloxone by the Northern Kentucky Health Department. Training included how to distinguish an opioid overdose from other medical emergencies, how to administer the naloxone medication, and reactions from the person once it is administered.

Officer Nick Blank attended CIS training. This will allow him to keep up with the changes coming concerning the MDT System.
